

John DiBenedetto – Managing Director, Advisor Group

Fusion Financial Partners

At Fusion, John will serve as the National Director of Strategic Relationships focused on delivering his leadership, experience and passion for all technology and services to help advisory teams navigate the ocean of independent advisory platforms and develop roadmaps for growth and efficiency.

Prior to joining Fusion, John served as the head of business development for Astrocyte Research, a Fintech startup and consulted companies of the private equity and RIA areas in M&A, organic growth/distribution, and advisor engagement. He has worked in a number of sales and management roles at Fidelity Investments and JP Morgan focused on financial advisors, national advisory firms and institutions.
