

Anthony Wilson
Managing Director
iCapital

Anthony joined iCapital in 2016 to help build the alternative investment platform from its early conception. He has been a leader and key contributor on strategic projects benefiting individual investors, RIAs, GPs, enterprise partners and iCapital's educational efforts. Prior to iCapital, Anthony held senior positions with firms including Highland Capital and Artio Global Investors (formerly Julius Baer). He has worked closely with influential wealth advisors, family offices and institutional clients focusing on alternative investments, primarily in private equity and hedge funds. Anthony has also been an advocate for the evolution of alternatives, speaking at events highlighting and promoting the need for individual investors to have expanded access to alternative investments.

Anthony is a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles and a Certified Investment Management Analyst from the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania.
